Total ordinary revenue was 3,588,351 yen, an increase of 468,936 yen from the previous term. Looking at the breakdown, business revenue from our main operations was 1,489,540 yen, only 95,540 yen more than the previous term, while donations received decreased significantly from 1,669,278 yen in the previous term to 469,927 yen. On the other hand, miscellaneous income reached 1,628,884 yen — an increase of 1,572,747 yen from the previous term — largely thanks to the newly recognized grants received of 1,433,271 yen (the grant from the NLnet Foundation). The other miscellaneous income of 194,356 yen is the refund of consumption tax paid in the previous term.

Total ordinary expenses were 5,039,998 yen, an increase of 697,568 yen from the previous term. Business expenses decreased by 83,432 yen from the previous term to 254,998 yen, while administrative expenses (business outsourcing expenses) increased by 781,000 yen from the previous term to 4,785,000 yen. This shows that the share of business outsourcing has grown compared to the previous term.

The ordinary profit or loss — total ordinary revenue minus total ordinary expenses — was -1,451,647 yen, so we again posted a deficit. The deficit widened by 228,632 yen compared to the previous term's -1,223,015 yen.

After deducting corporate and inhabitant taxes, the net assets increase or decrease for the term was -1,471,647 yen. As a result, the net assets at the end of the term were -8,117,158 yen, further widening the negative balance from -6,645,511 yen at the end of the previous term.

Statement of Income and Expenditure for FY2025

Finally, let us look at the statement of income and expenditure comparing the budget and the actual amount during this term (from April 1, 2025, to March 31, 2026). However, since our corporation does not formulate a budget, it remains formal and will be substantially the same as the statement of changes in net assets in the previous section.
